Birch juice with added juice of apples

Pasteurised product without added sugar

Birch sap is obtained in early spring from the trunks of birch trees and is collected from the first buds on the tree until the leaves develop. The birch juice with the addition of apple juice has a pleasant, refreshing taste. Birchch sap is an excellent supplement to the daily diet and can be consumed by people of all ages, including children, without quantitative restrictions. It is worth drinking it especially in the autumn-winter period and during the spring solstice.

It contains naturally occurring sugars.
