

Elderberry Juice with vitamin C

Elderberry is a shrub commonly found in Poland. However, not everyone knows that its berries are a real treasure trove of nutrients. Due to the high content of polyphenols (natural antioxidants), which eliminate free radicals and prevent oxidative stress, elderberry is recommended for the prevention of civilization diseases. Its berries are also a source of iron, magnesium, calcium and potassium, thanks to which they have deacidifying properties. In addition, they also have antibacterial, analgesic, detoxifying properties and seal blood vessels.

Elderberries consumed in larger quantities are perfect for constipation, because they have a laxative effect, facilitating the removal of harmful metabolites.

Our product is a combination of 99.95% elderberry juice (Sambucus nigra) and vitamin C, thanks to which it supports your immunity even better! In addition, vitamin C supports the work of the nervous system, protects cells against oxidative stress and the proper production of collagen. It also helps to reduce the feeling of fatigue!
